

KERRITS' SIT TIGHT SUPREME

Tested by Claire Sakowski

Kerrits puts some very innovative materials into their riding apparel and the Sit Tight Supreme breeches benefit from a combination of two new synthetic fabrics.

The Dynamic Extreme material which makes up the bulk of the breeches is great for the barn. I did barn work (lifting hay bales, mucking stalls, etc.) and rode in all weather in these breeches and the integrity and look of the material didn't change at all. These are wear anywhere that was breeched! The only downfall of the material is the floppy sense it makes when you walk. The Goprek Ballast did exactly what it claimed to, stick me to the saddle (it also stuck me to my life vest on my car a couple times too!), and although the areas under this material were a little warmer than the rest of my legs and seat, it is a small price for the security you get on the saddle.

PROS

- Easy to get on and off the tights
- Very durable & attractive materials
- Machine washable
- Comfortable large waistband and tailoring

CONS

- Full seat makes rise and tummy soft
